Well finally it's done (I said I would do in 1 month and half but it take some 4 months hahaha) the first of the 3 sakura doujins translated so just 3 things:

1) Almost nothing I have to guess it's all direct translated so that's why the majority of the text will look a little weird I mean that. Instead of rewrite most of what the charachters say to make it sound better I just let what they are really saying with just a little fix.

2) Probably this wont matter to anyone but I will say it anyway. I don't like "loli" mangas. this one is a exception because in the sequels (2 and 3) sakura is looking more older and because of the story (girl becames progressively... "crazy") :-)

3) English is not my natural language so forgive some "engrish" that appears on the way. :D
